

'Building our organisations towards the SADC We Want'

Communiqué and Plan of Action of 13th Civil Society Forum

14 – 16 August 2017

Johannesburg, South Africa

The 13th Southern Africa Civil Society Forum (CSF) convened by faith based organisations, non-governmental organisations and trade unions brought together diverse civil society formations from the region at Birchwood Hotel and Conference Centre, Boksburg, South Africa from the 14th-16th August 2017 to collectively reflect on strengthening, securing and consolidating our organisations' common future and gains to advance the interest of our people for development, peace and justice.

Collectively, we represent a diverse community of interests with a shared set of values and ethics; most importantly, social and economic justice, inclusive and participatory development, accountability, transparency and a commitment to people-centred regional integration in the Southern African Development Community (SADC) region of the African Union (AU).

Civil society in the SADC region further recognizes that our diversity, different interests, modes of operation and location within our countries and region are key assets for the ongoing struggle for democratic and social transformation of our countries. For this reason, we declare a key strategic purpose of our movement to fight corruption and ensure public accountability in all spheres of society, including amongst our own formations and organizations.

As SADC civil society, we are cognizant of the challenges we are facing at both national and regional levels, including in our lack of coordination, lack of a common programme of action and resource and capacity constraints. We have therefore resolved to chart a shared roadmap and course of action.

In the spirit of the universally accepted principle of "leave no one behind" in the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), we resolve to ensure the full and active participation and inclusion of all sectors including children, youth, women, older persons, people living with disabilities, and indigenous people in engaging SADC and Member States to achieve the SADC We Want.

We further resolve to urgently coordinate civil society at national and regional levels to develop a plan of action to render support and solidarity to people living in SADC countries facing socio-economic and political distress.

Informed by the theme of this 13th Southern Africa civil society forum on “building people’s organisations, securing our common future, consolidating our gains and confronting our challenges”, we adopt the following Plan of Action as our collective commitment and roadmap towards the SADC We Want:

SADC Basic Income Grant
Over 70 percent of the African population is uncovered by social protection. The wealth generated from mining is owned by foreign entities, African governments have a minor share between 5-20 percent. Africa's natural resources wealth needs to be urgently decolonised, A SADC BIG must be implemented by member states and funded on a tax from the extractives industry.	We will continue to campaign for a Basic Income Grant (BIG) of a minimum of US$15, which must be implemented across the region to all citizens, refugees and immigrants in the region If no one should be left behind to meet SDG1. This will also help in: assisting youth cope with income insecurity, meet their basic needs and reduce the financial burden of job seeking.	National and regional CSOs led by the Studies in Poverty and Inequality Institute (SPII)
Community Benefit Schemes in Mining
The colonial history of Southern Africa has greatly influenced the regions' socio-economic strategies as the colonial regime took over the means of production of its colonies and turned the indigenous people of those countries into workers of the regime thereby, disempowering the indigenous	We will advocate for: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. the development of a consolidated SADC approach or standard on community benefit schemes from mining to ensure poverty reduction and sustainable development from mining including basic principles on Free Prior Informed Consent (FPIC) and clarity on difference between CSR and CBS; gender considerations;</li> </ol>	CSOs at sub national, national and regional levels in partnership with ZELA, Benchmarks Foundation, Liga Moacambicana Dos Direitos Humanos

people from ownership of the means of production.	2. Inclusive mining contract negotiation process which takes into account mine closure and disinvestment considerations taking into account long term health and environmental impacts;	and Associacao de Apoio e Assistencia Juridica as Comunidades
The number of people living in abject poverty in SADC is rising despite the countries being resource rich. This is manifested in increasing unemployment, poor service delivery, poor education and health infrastructure and continuing economic disempowerment which has been exacerbated by the policy inconsistencies; lack of implementation of legislative provisions on community benefit schemes and weak institutions of accountability for mining revenue	3. Youth participation in the development of policies around Business and Human Rights which can improve community benefit schemes from mining; Africa Mineral Governance Framework; SADC processes around assimilation of the Africa Mining Vision; We will engage SADC member States: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. to ensure-Mandatory CBS laws and policies that provide for communities in mining regions. This will also include stand-alone legislation that addresses community benefit schemes providing for registration, structure, governance and functions;</li> <li>2. not to conflate Corporate Social Responsibility with community benefit schemes. The mines profitability should tally with the socio-economic development of the mining community.</li> <li>3. Accelerate the development of Country Mining Visions in line with Africa Mining Vision to ensure value addition/beneficiation, economic diversification and linkages from mining to other economic sectors;</li> <li>4. Transfer means of production to indigenous people to enable community benefit schemes to effectively benefit they must be given claims in order to leverage</li> <li>5. Advocate and monitor fiscal transparency in terms of the share of taxes collected from mining that should be retained/ returned to local governments for local benefit, so that these funds are returned to local authorities in mining areas and are used for community benefit.</li> </ol>
Land
Human rights violations have been more prominent in disputes related to land for agriculture, mining and other purposes. Land has been the source of livelihood for generations. It is the source for food security of the populations and, in this sense, it is a resource that guarantees the minimum of dignity as human beings	CSOs will urgently conduct research for greater understanding about Land problems in the region; <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. We will demand the heads of state share information and report on the state of land in their countries;</li> <li>2. We will advocate for a land audit to be carried out in all SADC countries;</li> </ol> We will build a movement on land (specifically against land grabbing, on distribution...) in the SADC region lead by stakeholders as communities, traditional leaders.	Civil Society organizations at national and regional levels in partnership with Alliance Against Land Grabbing in Mozambique (ASCUT), hosted by JOINT

Constitutional and legal rights to health and life that demand universal public health services that are used by all
Research and community experiences highlight that Africa Mining vision is challenged by health risks in EIs, and gaps and variability in national legal protections that affect rights to health and fair benefit	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. CSOs will advocate for health to be included in the SADC harmonised standards for the mining sector, with a comprehensive focus on public health and environment</li>   <li>2. We will create awareness of the need for commitments to regional and domestic financing of agriculture through a multi-sectoral approach to operationalise the SADC ADF fund.
Education Now
Poor and dwindling education financing that should promote access to quality and equitable education in the region. 34 million children aged 6-11 years are out of school (UNESCO); primary school is not wholly free in that parents have to contribute in the wake of the universal primary education;	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• We will campaign for SADC governments to increase spending on education to at least 20% of their national budgets (in line with the Education Protocol on Education and Training (2006) Article 4 (e) ) so that core costs such as qualified teachers and adequate, gender and disability responsive infrastructures that are lacking in most countries can be covered; and responsive to ensure sufficient allocation for marginalized groups (children with disabilities, girls, rural/remote areas, etc) and policies to protect them from exclusion or abuse are costed and implemented</li> </ul>	Action Aid and partners, National and regional CSOs

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Social protection is a means for the dignity of older men and women to be improved. We should promote the implementation of universal pensions throughout the region</li> </ul>
Continental Free Trade Area (CFTA)
De-industrialisation of African economies, perpetual dependency on raw materials exports and de-skilling of people and workers has resulted in weak and decimated domestic manufacturing base. The Negotiations on the proposed continental Free Area (CFTA), therefore, ought to start from this structural reality. Further, differences between production capacities among countries, across sectors, different players (small and large) and social groups. The CFTA negotiations should not result in unequal outcomes where bigger players reap much of the benefits at the expense of the small players. Development with equity must be ensured.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>To build the capacity of the youth, women, civil society and other relevant stakeholders to understand the issues being negotiated in the CFTA and their impact on the various stakeholders and constituencies;</li> <li>To advocate for the voice and representation of CSOs, academia in the CFTA negotiations at the continental, regional and the national levels;</li> <li>Undertake research and analysis on the various dimensions of the CFTA and SADC regional economic development;</li> <li>Participate in and engage government at the national level on the development of negotiating texts and positions;</li> <li>Share knowledge, information and experiences with other CSOs in other regions on the CFTA negotiations;</li> </ul>	Economic Justice Network of FOCCISA in collaboration with relevant CSOs and think tanks

CFTA negotiations have excluded the voices of youth who constitute a large proportion of the population, and women, NGOs, trade unions and other stakeholders.
Integrating Climate Change in SADC Policies

On Climate Change and Industrialisation Greenhouse gas emissions from industrial processes are at the centre of global warming and resultant climate change on earth. Robust climate and energy policies and strategies are required to ensure sustainable industrial and socioeconomic development.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1.
